SFScon 2010

The SFScon (South Tyrol Free Software Conference) is the international conference about Free Software and has been held on the 12th of November 2010 at the TIS innovation park in South Tyrol.

Videos and Slides will be published on the program page!

Free Software is an important topic in South Tyrol and has demonstrated its relevance in the local economy as well as in public entities.

To support management decisions and experts about IT infrastructures, the conference presents best-practice-cases and contributes to create synergies.

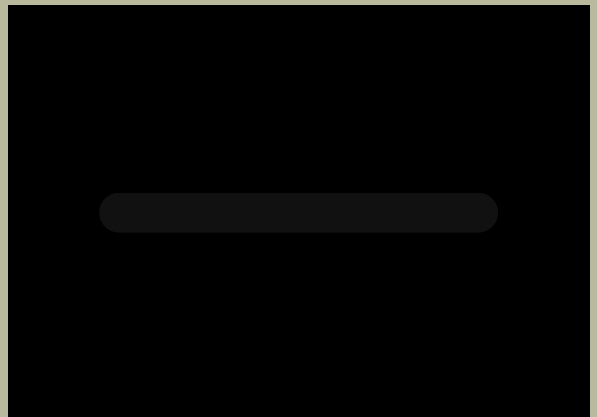

The SFScon is an initiative of the Free Software Center South Tyrol® of the Digital Technologies Department at the TIS innovation park and supports the introduction of Free Software on the local territory. At the same time the level of innovation activity and the competitiveness should be supported.
